

“Laura Rubinchuk is an outstanding realtor who my husband and I would recommend to any potential homebuyer in the DC metro area.

We found that she is highly motivated, adaptive and skilled in the business. She walked us step-by-step through the process and all along the way provided us with the information and guidance we needed, even when we didn't ask for it or know about it. She strives to stay current and provide up-to-date relevant information. We witnessed her dedication to her work and to us, as well as her many other clients. She knows how to work with people, and develop honest relationships.

When we started we didn't know whether to live in DC or Va, buy a house or condo, or even how much we wanted to spend. We weren't even sure if we wanted to stay in the area. Regardless, Laura took the time to learn our personalities and needs. She made herself completely available by spending countless hours and late nights returning emails and phone calls, each and every time with professionalism and genuine interest. Through Laura's commitment we remained focused and encouraged that no matter what decision we made, to buy or not, that we should be 100% satisfied with the outcome. Her approach allowed us to make the right choices for us. We now live in an amazing condo and couldn't imagine being anywhere else.

It was sheer luck that we received her contact information. We continue to think that we could not have spent our time or been so satisfied with anyone else. We thank her for making sure to get the job done right, for her no-pressure policies and her genuinely awesome personality!!

Signed – two very very happy DC condo owners, Liz and Dave, and one very pleased puppy who asks about Laura every day”
